

Calian is currently recruiting civilian Clinical Psychologists at the Canadian Forces Base in Brandon and Winnipeg, Manitoba. This is a unique opportunity to offer your expertise and make a difference to members of the Canadian Forces who are preparing for operational deployment or returning home from duty.

For soldiers returning home, the psychological and social effects of operations may not become apparent for several months or years. Calian provides teams of civilian mental health professionals to help military members deal with the consequences of Operational Stress Injuries, some of which include substance abuse, post traumatic stress, depression, anxiety, somatic complaints, relationship problems and family stress.

As the Clinical Psychologist you will be a part of a multidisciplinary mental health team providing services to promote wellness and support and empower patients to achieve their highest level of functioning. Some of these activities include:

- Administration of a full range of diagnostic tests for psychometric assessments
- Report results and interpretations of tests, interviews, and evaluations
- Assist in the identification, development and evolution of mental health programming
- Lead / participate in the development and instruction/counseling during group sessions for example for anxiety, PTSD, depression, stress management.

Mandatory Qualifications

- Must hold a Masters or Doctoral Degree in Clinical Psychology
- Registration for autonomous practice with the Manitoba College of Psychologists
- Two years clinical experience in a health services institute

Clinic hours of operation are Monday to Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Calian offers flexible types of employment including full and part-time opportunities for employees or independent contractors. There are no overhead costs or management challenges that may be associated with private practice.

Calian is pleased to be a part of Canada's healthcare industry. Our dynamic healthcare teams consist of more than 500 professionals providing healthcare services coast-to-coast at over 30 locations in Canada. Through our Health Service Support Contract with the Department of National Defence, Calian's healthcare professionals work in partnership with military healthcare teams providing primary care to today's Canadian Forces.
